Reliability

Reliability - Projects - Centre of Excellence

ATGL is adopting to the best-in class practices from strong parentage of Adani & TotalEnergies at every stage of its project development for our strategic advantage

Healthy relationship with all stakeholders with consumer-first philosophy

Reliability of Supply - Sourcing of Natural Gas

Supply reliability of Natural Gas is ensured through priority allocation of domestic gas to CGD subsectors and a diverse supply mix of RLNG

Supply to Domestic, Transport, MSME and Commercial subsectors is catered by domestic gas and RLNG

Domestic Gas is allocated to CGD Domestic (PNG) and Transport (CNG) subsectors

- Domestic and Transport subsectors are given highest priority in domestic gas allocation
- Allocation of gas is revised every three months based on actual consumption from earlier six months cycle
- Current Domestic Gas consumption of CGD sector is 22-25% of the total available Gas in the country

RLNG is supplied for balance consumption in all subsectors

- Well diversified RLNG portfolio in terms of suppliers and price linkages
- Market dynamics and macro factors affecting both oil and gas are considered in determining gas supply linkages
- Option to switch between long-term and spot RLNG is available and exercised on the basis of price volatility
- Membership with IGX, India's Gas Trading Platform may allow further diversification of the supply portfolio and access to a transparent market

TotalEnergies being a global player in LNG is a competitive advantage over our peers
